

Colby recently agreed to take the stump and make five or six speeches for the Democratic candidate, but aside from these members of the Cabinet the Administration heretofore has left it to Governor Cox to make his own fight.

Now that President Wilson has entered the campaign, however, the full weight of the Administration will be thrown behind Governor Cox. With the probable exception of Attorney General Palmer and Postmaster General Burleson, whom Governor Cox criticized on the stump a week ago, every official of the Administration, it was said, will take the stump for the Democratic candidate during the remaining four weeks of the campaign.

Wilson Rebuked in 1918

For Pre-Election Appeal

President Wilson addressed an appeal to "My Fellow Americans" on October 25, 1918, on the eve of a Congressional election, urging the return of a Democratic Congress to support the policies of his Administration. In the succeeding election the country replied by changing a Democratic majority in both houses of Congress to a Republican majority in the Senate and forty-six in the House of Representatives.

The President's appeal said in part: "If you have approved of my leadership... I earnestly beg that you will express yourselves unmistakably to that effect by returning a Democratic majority to both the Senate and House of Representatives."

On the return of a Republican majority to either house of Congress would, moreover, be interpreted on the other side of the water as a repudiation of my leadership."

Peter Cooper Hewitt Quits Democratic Party

Comes Home From Europe Expressly to Cast Vote for Harding

Peter Cooper Hewitt, the inventor, who had been abroad for the summer, came home yesterday on the Cunard liner Imperator to vote for Senator Harding. Throughout his life, he said, he had been a Democrat, but he had tired of Wilson's policies, which, he said, were forever being forced upon the Democratic party.

Mr. Hewitt, London, said: "I shall vote the Republican ticket, as true," he said, "I have come home to vote for Senator Harding because I do not believe that the forcing of Presidential policies upon a party expresses the sentiment of democracy, upon which our institutions are founded. I believe that the continuation of Democratic centralism will mean perpetuation of those policies which I consider inimical to the best interests of the people."

While abroad Mr. Hewitt was stricken with acute appendicitis and underwent an operation. He has fully recovered.

Among others on the Imperator were Alexander Bonet, lyric tenor, of the Chicago Opera company; the Misses Norma, Constance and Natalie Talmadge, motion picture players; Mr. and Mrs. Alden S. Blaggett; Mrs. George Jay Gould; Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. C. Edwards; Sir Edward Allen, Miss Helen Cameron, Lady Crossley, Professor A. Hopewell-Smith, Colonel and Mrs. F. L. V. Hoppin, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hargrave, Major R. J. K. O'Malley, Keyes, Captain and Mrs. J. A. Dyson Perrins and Mrs. and Mrs. G. H. Taylor.

Anti-Suffragists Will Resume Fight To-day

Seek Advancement of Their Suit as Appeals Tribunal Meets in Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—With the opening of the full session of the District Court of Appeals to-morrow the anti-suffrage forces will attempt to obtain advancement of their injunction case to prevent enforcement of the suffrage amendment. The plaintiffs' effort will be to bring the suit to the United States Supreme Court before the November election. The government, through the District Attorney of the District of Columbia, already has before the Court of Appeals a motion to dismiss the case.

Although no doubt that the suffrage amendment is not endangered by developments in the suit, leaders of the National Woman's party are following the case closely, and will attend the hearing.

School for Smith Orators

Governor Will Open Speakers' Class at the Hotel Biltmore

Governor Smith will open the speakers' class of the Citizens' Committee this afternoon at the Hotel Biltmore. The committee, which is organized to aid Governor Smith in his campaign for reelection, will give instruction in public speaking daily at the committee's headquarters on the first floor of the Biltmore. Men and women are invited to attend the classes.

"It is the plan of the committee to form flying squadrons of these speakers," said Mr. Henry Moskowitz yesterday. "These squadrons will travel in automobiles and speak at meetings, informal and otherwise, in all parts of the city."

Harvard Crimson, Once Edited By F. D. Roosevelt, for Harding

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 3.—Although Franklin D. Roosevelt was president of The Harvard Crimson in 1904, the college daily to-morrow will declare in an editorial for Harding and Coolidge. The Crimson bases its leaning on a statement made recently by Senator Harding in favor of some form of League of Nations.

INITIALED EGGS

H. Rider Haggard, the English novelist, tells how Denmark manages to have strictly fresh eggs:

The farmers are registered and required to number and initial each egg sent to market.

If one or two are bad, the farmer is fined. If three are bad, he is boycotted.

Less drastic, yet equally effective, measures are employed in selecting the eggs at CHILDS—they're positively fresh.

Baked, fried, poached, scrambled, or made into a delicious omelet.

Campaign Levy On Newark U.S. Clerks Charged

Sunday Call Alleges That Federal Employees in Fifth District Have Been Assessed From $23 Up Collected on Pay Day

Charles V. Duffy, Head of Bureau, Declares Donations Were Voluntary

Definite charges were made yesterday that clerks employed in the Newark office of the Collector of Internal Revenue have been deliberately assessed varying sums of money to support the Democratic national campaign in violation of both the Federal laws and the resolutions of the Civil Service Commission.

The charges were embraced in a news article and prominently displayed in The Newark Call.

After saying that repeated official denials of these allegations had been made by the Department, the article adds that it is certain that the assessment plan has been systematically carried out in the Fifth Internal Revenue or Newark district. This is the district presided over by Collector Charles V. Duffy.

It shows that collection of funds for political purposes from Federal employees is expressly prohibited by several sections of the United States Statutes and by rules of the Civil Service Commission, as well as by the Treasury Department, of which this collector's office is a branch. The article then adds that a notice is conspicuously posted in their office, located in the Hanna-Stage Building, at Central Avenue and Broad Street, which declares that the solicitation or giving of money for use in political campaigns is illegal, and that any person who so contributes will not only be dismissed from the service, but he can be liable to criminal prosecution as well.

Story Denied by Duffy

Continuing, the article recites in part: "Collector Duffy declared he did not believe the stories of assessments to be true. 'If any such thing is going on I will immediately stop it,' he said. 'It is a violation of the law and the rules of the Civil Service Commission and I do not care to have my office violate these.'"

"I suppose that the only campaign collection going out of this office will be mine!"

"At one time the members of the office staff seemed to have an idea that if they desired they might make voluntary contributions for their political parties, and, mind you, there are both Republicans and Democrats in my office—but I have expressly forbidden the solicitation of contributions for political campaign purposes."

"But, in spite of the warning, the collections have been made. According to The Sunday Call's information, the male and female employees a week or more ago were told the sum he or she was expected to contribute. Friday of last week being pay day, it was fixed as the time at which the money was to be paid over, and three of the employees of the department were designated as collectors of the fund. Some of the employees protested and others absolutely refused to be assessed. But a majority of the clerks paid without protest."

Minimum Levy $25

"The plan of assessment contemplated that those who received $1,200 a year were to pay $25 out of the September salary, while other employees earning more were assessed 5 per cent of their annual wage. These were permitted to pay 2½ per cent on Friday and the remainder on November 1."

"Another person who informed The Sunday Call of the assessment, declared that the plan had been pursued successfully during the campaign of 1916."

Harding Calls Johnson and Borah Loyal

Miller Committee Begins Active Campaign To-day

Headquarters To Be Opened in West 39th Street by Citizen Workers

The Miller Citizens' Committee, of which William C. Breed is chairman and which includes among its members Charles E. Hughes and other men of national prominence, will open headquarters to-day at 43 West Thirty-ninth Street. Already the committee has more than 1,000 members and will take an active part in the campaign independent of the Republican State Committee.

"The time has come when every voter should be impressed with the necessity for a change in the nation and state," Mr. Breed said yesterday. "The Miller committee will interest itself this week in seeing that the voters get out to register, which is of paramount importance. Every member of the committee is to see that his acquaintances register."

"The committee also will stress the fact that a change of political management in the state is as necessary as in the nation. We will impress upon the voters that their duty is to support candidates who will best represent and carry out sound policies of government, for which Judge Miller stands."

Hillquit, London, Open Campaign and Assail Old Parties

Former Declares Fusion in Strong Socialist Districts 'Monumental Stupidity' on Part of Their Enemies

Morris Hillquit and Meyer London, two of the six Socialist Congressional candidates, opened their campaigns yesterday morning with speeches to large audiences in the New Star Casino and in Clinton Hall. Both men bitterly assailed the Republican and Democratic parties.

Mr. Hillquit, speaking at the New Star Casino, said that it was the first time in four years that he had addressed the voters of the Twentieth Congressional District in behalf of his candidate.

"The greater part of that period," said Mr. Hillquit, "I have spent in a little up-state village far removed from the distracting influences of so-called civilization and out of touch with the politics of the country."

"When I came back from my self-imposed exile, I felt like a political Rip Van Winkle. I was dazed and bewildered by the changes that had taken place. I had lost my political bearings."

The candidate then described how he had gone to the editor of one of "our great conservative dailies" and asked him what had happened in the last four years.

"My interview was closed I knew enough," declared Mr. Hillquit. "But little had happened in American politics in the last four years. They—the two old parties—are the same humbugs they were four years ago and twenty years ago—always manufacturing new and meaningless issues, always engaging in sham fights, always dividing the people and always obtaining the rule of wealth under one label or another."

"Fortunately for the ultimate success of socialism, the old parties grow ever more self-confident, brazen and stupid in their policies, and their most monumental stupidity is their open fusion in the political districts in which socialism is strong. It is of tremendous importance for our cause to have the old parties throw off their hypocritical mask of bi-partisanship and to reveal themselves before the working class as two rapacious bodies with one reactionary soul. The old parties may have their little family quarrels, but they are one in upholding the capitalist rule in the United States."

men who made this fight are to-day united in the support of Mr. Harding because his view has been fully, honestly and emphatically expressed to the American people. . . . I take off my hat to Senator Harding in his characterization of that instrument (the treaty). . . . Mr. Harding in his speech of acceptance says it is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization with the covenant of conscience than to be shackled by a written contract which surrenders our freedom of action and gives that military alliance the right to proclaim America's attitude to the world. Oh, but he is eternally right!"

"Under Which Flag?" Emphasized

"In the conclusion of his address Senator Johnson used these words: 'Under which flag, my friends? Under the negroist international banner of Europe, or under the old Stars and Stripes? That is the issue.'"

"Senator Johnson repeatedly quoted from the League of Nations address which Thompson delivered in the September primaries for the Republican nomination for United States Senator by Senator Irvine Lenroot, will make an independent run for the Senate on a 'La Follette' platform. The necessary papers assuring Thompson a place on the ballot were filed at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night at Madison, one half hour before the time limit expired. It is expected that La Follette will take the stump for Thompson."

The movement to bring out Thompson as an independent originated early last week, when railroad men favoring the Plumb plan circulated papers.

MacSwiney's Condition the Same

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The condition of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, who is on a hunger strike in Dublin Prison, was the same to-night as it was yesterday, according to the bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League, issued this evening.

Cox Cancels Engagement

Governor Cox, it had been announced, would speak from the same platform and eat luncheon with the Republican candidate. Word came to-day from the Cox camp that the Governor had canceled the engagement in order to rest.

The date is the ninety-eighth anniversary of the birth of President Buchanan. B. Hager, Senator and Mrs. Harding will be luncheon guests to-morrow of Colonel and Mrs. Webb Hayes. The Colonel is a son of the late President.

Wednesday morning Senator Harding starts on a speaking trip that includes engagements at Des Moines, Omaha, St. Joseph and Kansas City, Mo., and Oklahoma City. He is scheduled to return to Marion October 12, but will depart the next day on a trip to Chattanooga, Tenn.

Although only four speeches are scheduled for the West trip, Senator Harding probably will be compelled to deliver about thirty, judging by experience of his trip to Baltimore, when he made twenty-four speeches in three days.

The tentative schedule for the Chattanooga trip provides for a speech there October 13, one in Louisville, October 14; Indianapolis, October 15, and St. Louis, October 16.

The Louisville speech is the subject of earnest discussion among Senator Harding's advisers just now. They are not entirely satisfied with the outlook in Kentucky, but they fear that the

Two Bits per Capita

There has been a great clamor recently about political campaign funds that are alleged to total fifteen or twenty millions.

At a dollar per family, the dough bag would have to contain $22,000,000 or about 25c per capita.

It is customary to make all dreadful appeals to the imagination of the common peepul in terms of aggregate millions.

Advertising campaigns that sound wondrous and prodigal in total, shrink to an apparent, pitiful inadequacy in terms of two bits per capita per year, and yet no such huge fund for advertising has ever existed.

A few cents per capita per year would make an advertising appropriation for any manufacturer so large as to almost warrant its being "viewed with alarm."

The league intends to supplement the appeal by circulars and handbills, with meetings in public schools, churches and other places of public assemblage, and with slides to be thrown on screens in motion picture theaters. The registration this year will be unusually heavy, in the belief of politicians, for all parties will make a determined effort to get out their full strength on Election Day.
